

GALVESTON'S SEAWALL HAS PROVED ITS WORTH

GALVESTON.—Galveston's wonderful seawall, built after the flood of 1900, proved its worth again in the recent hurricane which swept the Texas coast. Huge waves dashed over the sea wall and water ran three feet deep in the streets, but the city was saved from the damage that followed the 1900 hurricane and tidal wave. The sea wall is 17 feet high, 16 feet wide at base and five feet at crest and covers the entire frontage of the city. It cost $2,000,000.

CINCINNATI REDS, TEAM OF CAST-OFFS, MAY BE WORLD'S BASEBALL CHAMPIONS

Pat Moran, boss of the Reds, who gave Cincinnati her first national league champion team, is being called the "Miracle Man." He took a team that was rated early in the season as lucky, to land in the first division and capped a championship with it.

But the main reason advanced in crowing him with "wonder titles" is the fact that he brought about his miraculous feat with a team of cast-offs. He assembled a club from material discarded by other teams and moulded it into a consistent winner. He took a corps of pitchers who had been found wanting by other managers and developed the best staff of hurlers in the league.

Jackie Dubert, Larry Kopf, Morry Rath and Sherry Magee were on their way to the minors when Pat turned their steps to the Reds and handed them a slice of world's series coin. Slim Sallee, Walter Reuther and Ray Fisher had the N. G. tagged on them, but Moran took them and put their wings in the best working order of their career. Here are the Reds in a nutshell:

Jacoby E. Daubert (first baseman) is 34 years old. He was born in Shamokin, Pa. He started his career in 1906 with the Kansas semi-pros and was bought by Brooklyn in 1910, playing there until this spring. He has been around .200 in fourteen seasons.

Morry Rath (second baseman) was given the test in the American League with the White Sox, but he failed to deliver the goods and went back through the minors to Salt Lake City where he was secured last year by the Reds.

William Lawrence Kopf (short stop) is 28. He was born in Bristol, Conn. In 1912, as captain of the Fordham college nine, he drew the attention of major league scouts. But he dabbled around for awhile in the New England league under the name of Brady. He was signed by Toledo and sent up to Cleveland. The Athletics got him on waivers. His stick work was too light and he was released to Baltimore. The Reds then nabbed him when Herzog left. His work this year has been high class.

In point of service, Henry Knight (third baseman) is one of the veterans of the team. He was born in Rochester, N. Y., 30 years ago. He started out with Oshkosh in 1908 and was sold to Decatur in 1911. The Giants bought him later in the season and then let him go to Buffalo. He was recalled in 1912 and in 1913 was released to the Reds. He bats around .273 and is the best third baseman in the league.

Ivy B. Wingo (catcher) was born 29 years ago in Uxbridge, Ga. He jumped in the game in 1909 with Greenville in the Carolina Association. He was sold to St. Louis in 1911 and was traded to the Reds in 1915 for Gonzalez and Heschler.

William A. Hariden (catcher) is 31. He was born in Bedford, Ind., and started his career in 1907 with Canton in the Central League. The Braves bought him in 1910 for $750. He jumped to the Indianapolis Peds in 1914 and then went to the Newark Peds in 1915. He was sold to the Giants in 1916 for $8750 and was traded to Cincinnati in 1919.

Sherwood Magee (outfielder) was born 25 years ago in Clarendon, Pa. He started baseball in 1905 with the Allentown semi-pros. He was signed by Little Rock in 1904, but refused to report and was sent to Philadelphia Nationals. In 1915 he was traded to the Braves. After three seasons there he was released to Cincinnati this year on waivers.

Ed J. Rousch (outfielder) was born in Oakland City, Ind., and is 26 years of age. He made his debut with Evansville in 1912. After two seasons there the White Sox bought him for $3,000. He played in eight games and was sent to Lincoln in the Western League. In 1914 he came back with the Indianapolis Peds. He was then traded to the Newark Federals and was sold to the Giants in 1916 for $7,200. The same year he was traded with McKee and Mathewson for Herzog and Kilfer. With the Reds he has been the leading hitter and the best league swatter last year.

Earl A. (Greasy) Neale (outfielder) was born in Parkersburg, W. Va. He is 26 years old. He started in 1912 with Altoona in the Tri-State League. He was released to London in the Connecticut league and was drafted from there by the Cleveland Americans in 1914. He was farmed back to London and returned to Cleveland in 1915. He went from there to Dayton in the Central League and then to Saginaw. When that team disbanded, he was bought by Cincinnati in 1916. He has batted around .270 for the Reds.

Harry O. (Hod) Eller (pitcher) was born in Muncie, Ind., 25 years ago. He started in 1912 with Champaign in the Illinois-Missouri League. In 1914 he was sold to the Danville in the Three-I league and pitched there two seasons. The White Sox gave him a trial in 1916, but turned him over to Moline without a chance. He jumped from Moline and joined the army on the border. He returned and was suspended. Later he was reinstated and was drafted by Cincinnati.

Jimmie King (pitcher) one of the sensational youngsters of 1919, was drafted from Utica in 1917. He was traded to Buffalo and was sent to Chattanooga with Reuther as part of a deal, but was recalled before the end of the season.

Ray L. Fisher (pitcher) was born 22 years ago in Middlebury, Va. He went to Hartford in the Connecticut League in 1908. In 1909 he was sold to the Yankees and pitched "in and out" ball until the Reds got him on waivers last year.

Raymond B. (Rube) Boucher (pitcher) is 25. He was born in Brookville, Pa., and started in 1913 with Harrisburg in the Tri-State League. In 1914 he was sold to the Athletics and was turned over to Atlanta in 1917. He was discharged from the army this spring and was transferred to the Reds. He played in the outfield most of the year, pitching only a few games.

Harry F. Sallee (pitcher) is 34. He was born in Higginsport, O. He became a professional in 1905 when he joined Meridian in the Cotton States League. He was sold the same year to Birmingham in the Southern League. He went to the Kanawha in 1907 and was released without trial to Williamsport in the Tri-State League. St. Louis drafted him in 1908 and sold him to the Giants in 1916 for a reported price of $10,000. He failed to get the league fire and when he threatened to quit if he couldn't land with a club closer to his home, McGraw sent him to Cincinnati. Walter Reuther (pitcher) is 28. He started in 1913 with St. Ignace College in San Francisco. The Pirates signed him and he stayed with them a month before being sent to Los Angeles. From there he was traded to Sacramento and ended up with the semi-pros in Frisco. In 1914 he was signed by Vancouver in the Northwest League and from there he went to Salt Lake City in 1915. Spokane signed him in 1916 and then he went to the Cubs. Cincinnati took him when he failed in Chicago and was about to turn him down. He was traded to Chattanooga, but refused to go. He went in the army and returned to the Reds this year and became the best southpaw of the league.

Making a Purely Vegetable Medicine

1875 — 1919

In 1875, Lydia E. Pinkham of Lynn, Mass., gathered and dried the roots and herbs which she used in the now famous Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, from the fields and forests, — then steeped them on her kitchen stove and filled a few bottles at a time, to alleviate the suffering of her women friends, neighbors and acquaintances, and the success of this medicine was unparalleled.

After 44 Years

These illustrations show the present method by which vast quantities of this well-known remedy are produced and from exactly the same kind of roots and herbs used by Mrs. Pinkham in the beginning.

First—The various herbs used are of the finest quality, and gathered at the time their medicinal strength is the highest.

Second—After the herbs are properly ground and mixed, the medicinal properties are extracted by soaking in large stone jars, covered.

Third—Then the extract is drained through percolators, acting somewhat like a coffee percolator.

Fourth—To insure a thoroughly pure medicine, it is carefully pasteurized by heat in special apparatus, and bottled hot.

Throughout the entire process, from the crude herb to the finished medicine in bottle, cleanliness and exactness are the watch-words.

The Reliability of Testimonials Guaranteed

The testimonials published by the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Company come to them unsolicited. Never knowingly have they published an untruthful letter, never is a letter published without the written consent of the writer. The reason that thousands of women from all parts of the country write such grateful letters is that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has brought health and happiness into their lives, once burdened with pain and illness. It is easy to realize how these poor, suffering women feel when restored to health; and their keen desire to help other women who are suffering as they did.
